

Why is racism in sport a problem ?

Racism is racial discrimination.

Racism in sports happens, but the sports organisations are doing their best to raise awareness and to fight against racism in sports.

Racism in Australia is a common problem.

Adam Goodes is an international football player in Australia.

He is an aborigine. People insult him and say boo.

Adam is one of the best AFL players in Australia.

He is talking always straight forward that's why some people don't like his attitude.

Most of the racism happens to the players and athletes with an African blood.

Sport is not a reason to fight or hate each other.

Sports is a key to come together, equality to everybody, in gender and racial.

Sports is the answer to the world peace.

!!!!Show racism the red card!!!!

From: Julia, Melkom, Lorenz